

EP08.101 Concomitant Cesarean Section and life-saving neonatal cardiac surgery: a milestone in fetal cardiology

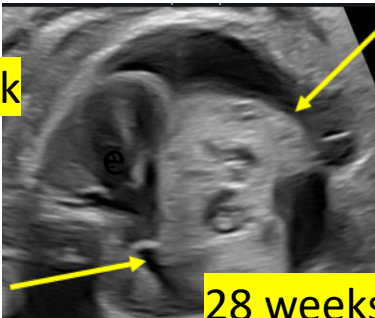

M. Respondek-Liberska 1, M. Krekora 1, P. Kosiński 2, K. Fortecka 1, E. Malec 1, K. Januszewska 1
 1) Polish Mother’s Memorial Hospital, Lodz Poland 2) Medical University in Warsaw, Poland

Pericardial drainage 100 ml (P.K.)

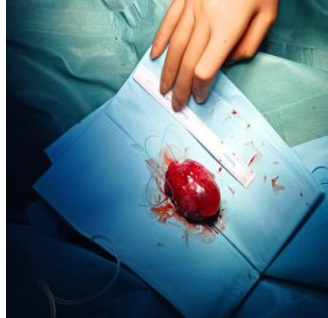

21 week

28 weeks

31 week

12months

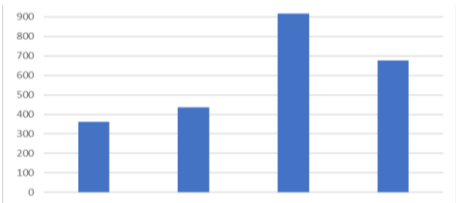

Poland

Lodz

Week of gest	22	22,5	26	28	30,5
Size of the tumor	15 x 16	22 x 21	40 x 30 x 40	53 x 43 x 44	55 x 45x 48
PE	8	20		10	12
Hydrothorax			+	+	+
Ascites			+	+	+
AFI			18	22	30
CoCO ml		360	436	916	675

Cc output 26 – 31 wks

Apgar 1/2/ 4 – intubation in uterus (K.F)
 Birth weight 2300g (with edema)
 Neonatal cardiac surgery during maternal CS
 Hist- path – Teratoma immaturum
 After 10 weeks in NICU girl was discharged home

Summary: We present a milestone in prenatal cardiology and neonatal cardiac surgery: „ what was impossible turned out to be possible thanks to the team work” Prof. I. Maroszynska Director of PMMH On behalf of co-authors maria.respondek-liberska@iczmp.edu.pl